

Safe Skies® Locks Up Deal to Become The Luggage Lock of Munich Airport

Agreement enables travellers to lock their luggage without it being cut by luggage screening officials

New York – February 22, 2016 – Safe Skies, provider of the industry’s most comprehensive selection of TSA-accepted luggage locks, announces the agreement with Munich Airport Customs, Hauptzollamt Muenchen, to allow German and international passengers the ability to lock their luggage using Safe Skies Locks without the fear of getting them cut.

Already accepted and recognized by the United States Transportation Security Administration (TSA) and Her Majesty’s Revenue and Customs of the United Kingdom, Canadian Air Transport Security Authority (CATSA), Israel Airports Authority (IAA), and Australian Customs and Border Protection Service, Safe Skies takes another step in providing travelers’ peace of mind while ensuring the safety of their belongings.

“Our goal is to give consumers the ability to travel without luggage safety concerns, no matter where they go,” said David Tropp, Founder of Safe Skies. “By providing the industry’s largest selection of luggage locks, Safe Skies allows your luggage to be safe, unique and easy to identify.”

Protected by multiple patents, including US Patent No. 7,021,537 and 7,036,728 and 8,145,576, and German Utility Patent Models Nr. 20 2004 021 893.3, Nr. 20 2004 021 909.3, and Nr. 20 2004 021 913.1 which disclose Safe Skies method of improving airline luggage inspection and apparatus for TSA-accepted locks, Safe Skies Locks displays the proprietary torch symbol, allowing baggage screening officers to easily identify our accepted lock, open it and re-lock your luggage. In addition, all Safe Skies TSA-accepted Luggage Locks come with a lifetime warranty and a hassle-free replacement policy in case your lock is mistakenly clipped.

“As specified in our patents, we are and continue to be the owner of the patented TSA lock concept” added Tropp. “Safe Skies is proud of this fact and will continue to establish new agreements to increase its worldwide acceptance.”

For more information about Safe Skies Locks, visit www.SafeSkiesLocks.com

About Safe Skies

Founded in 2004, Safe Skies is the only luggage lock company protected by US Patents 7,021,537, 7,036,728, 8,145,576 and accepted and recognized by both the United States Transportation Security Administration (TSA) and Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs of the United Kingdom. Distinctively highlighted by the torch logo, Safe Skies luggage locks allow luggage screeners to safely inspect your luggage without clipping the lock. Safe Skies products, including TSA accepted padlocks, combination locks, cable locks and luggage straps are available worldwide, including Japan, Germany, Argentina, United Kingdom, Ireland, Indonesia, Singapore, Australia, Panama and the United States.

###