Lewis N. Clark Introduces New WEA Collection

Elk Grove Village, IL (PRWEB) October 2016

Designed to be used for the everyday – whether you’re going on a business trip, to class, to the gym, or commuting to work – Lewis N. Clark’s® new WEA collection sees you through each day, no matter what life throws at you.

“The brand WEA was created to meet the daily needs of the modern woman. Inspired by shapes and materials used in Athleisure wear, we made these pieces to be as at home at the office as they are at the gym,” said Jen Panattoni, Director of Business Development.

If you’re running errands around town, the Squeeze Wristlet is ideal for holding the essentials, such as phones, IDs, credit cards, etc. The larger Phone Wallet gives you room to pack more, and both come with a removable wrist strap.

The Mini Cross-Body contains multiple RFID-protected card slots, a key keeper so your key doesn’t get lost at the bottom of the bag, and an adjustable cross-body strap. The Tablet Cross-Body easily fits tablets up to 10.5in, and the expansion panel adds 2in of additional storage. These are perfect for business meetings and nights on the town alike.

The all-purpose Tote not only accommodates laptops up to 17in, but also has plenty of room for gym gear such as workout clothes and tennis shoes, class materials like textbooks and tablets, or for travel essentials like neck pillows and blankets. The exterior pocket can also be converted into a pass-through, allowing you to attach it to your suitcase.

All items in the WEA collection are designed with unique quilted accents, are available in black and teal, and also contain RFID-blocking pockets, ensuring that you’re protected against electronic identity theft no matter where you travel in the world.

“We want these bags to be comfortable to carry, streamlined and provide the added protection of RFID to make sure our female traveler gets to her destination organized, comfortable and safe, making her life a little easier,” said Panattoni.

All products are available immediately.
