Adventure Games from Outside/Inside – New for 2017

Spokane, Washington – Spring 2017 - Outside/Inside games are packable, portable, ideal for travel and provide fun for all ages. Two Series in the Collection are offering new products for 2017. The Backpack Series is designed to be small and lightweight to fit in a backpack, suitcase or glove compartment. The Freestyle Series offers full size games that are collapsible and easy to transport and set-up for camping, at the cabin or beach and for tailgating. Both Series include details such as easy-to-see bright colors, hard to lose magnetic game pieces, collapsibility and innovation. Many can be played either outdoors or inside. Outside/Inside is owned and distributed by parent company, GSI Outdoors, based in Spokane, Washington.

New for 2017 from the Backpack Series includes the Backpack Kendama, Backpack Brain Twister, Backpack Mancala and Backpack Cornhole.

The Backpack Kendama is a challenging game of skill originating in Japan. Minds will be challenged while playing the Backpack Brain Twister including six different puzzles with varying degrees of difficulty. The centuries old Mancala game involves moving beads around the board and into individual pits (a.k.a. mancalas). The player with the most beads at the end wins. Last is the Backpack Cornhole, a mini version of the ever-popular game.

The Freestyle Disk Bocce and Freestyle Lawn Darts are new for 2017 from the Freestyle Series. Throwing skills can be tested with the Freestyle Disk Bocce game while target-shooting skills can be honed by enjoying the Freestyle Lawn Darts.
