XTEND Launches Kickstarter Campaign For Extendable Suitcase

XTEND Partners With Funded Today To Increase Pledges

SAN FRANCISCO—XTEND, the winner of the 2017 Innovation Award at TGA Las Vegas, has launched a Kickstarter campaign for their innovative luggage. The campaign has just reached over half their goal, and has brought on Funded Today to help encourage backers.

About XTEND

XTEND was built for non-stop travelers. Made with a strong polycarbonate body and scratch-proof nylon, XTEND features a biometric fingerprint security system to keep belongings safe. The suitcase also comes equipped with USB-charging capabilities, a laptop sleeve and an extender that gives users up to 40 percent more volume of space. XTEND also features a separate compartment designed for shoes, books or personal care items.

Pricing and Availability

XTEND is available to back now on Kickstarter. The company is hopeful that with the help of Funded Today, they'll see an increase in pledges for the remaining weeks. Once the campaign ends, the product is set to ship to all backers by November 2017. The starting price for one unit is $299.
