

Enviro-Point invites orders for its Travel market-aimed, high specification PPE – the great value Travel Safe Portable Hygiene Kit

Enviro-Point – the subsidiary business of airport services provider and retailer Luggage-Point – is inviting orders from travel hubs, travel retailers and businesses for its new Travel Safe Portable Hygiene Kit, which comes with impeccable safety credentials.

As businesses step up their pursuit of excellent quality, certified PPE safety and hygiene products in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic, Enviro-Point's high specification safety kit is a timely release into the market.

Each Travel Safe Portable Hygiene Kit – measuring 14 x 20 x 2cm – contains two 3-ply disposable face masks, two pairs of gloves, a packet of ten disinfectant wipes and a 100 ml hand sanitiser bottle, all contained in an eye-catching, re-usable travel pouch.

The safety kits are designed to be sold in-store or online and can also be vended from customised 'Travel Safe' vending machines within travel hubs and shopping centres. Smartly packaged, the kits are available at an introductory price of £7.50 (US$9.50).

Already, Newcastle and Bristol airports have agreed to stock the product and install Travel Safe vending machines, with many more in discussions and expected to follow.

All four product types contained in the Travel Safe Portable Hygiene Kit come with the best safety accreditations on the market – including CE certification in each case – a critical factor in travel hub/retailer decisions on selecting a product of this kind.

The face masks – which come with a bacterial efficiency of 99.8%+ – and gloves are both FDA approved. Meanwhile, the anti-bacterial wipes and hand sanitiser are proven to kill up to 99.9% of germs (full specifications and certifications for the four product types contained in the kit appear at the foot of this article).

Units of the Travel Safe Portable Hygiene Kit can be purchased in cartons of 50, with no limit on the number that can be advance ordered. Enviro-Point is happy to discuss the installation of Travel Safe vending machines to sell the product, where appropriate.

Luggage-Point/Enviro-Point Retail & Services Director Graeme Stewart said: "As the COVID-19 lockdown relaxes and the world re-opens its doors, everyday life and travel will be very different – a new 'normal' will be witnessed. Measures such as social distancing, face masks, hand sanitising and temperature checks will become standard throughout the travel industry for the foreseeable future whether travelling by train, air, sea, or road.

"We have completed extensive market research and paid close attention to airport industry safety guidelines to come up with a neatly-packaged product which we believe offers the best value on the market. Enviro-Point's Travel Safe Portable Hygiene Kit will further strengthen operator measures, whilst also removing traveller worry and stress surrounding COVID-19."
