Heritage Travelware Uses Profits From Pet Carrier To Support No Kill Animal Shelter

Heritage Travelware has worked hard to provide quality products and services to its customers and partners for nearly forty years. Unfortunately, last year we had to say goodbye to one of our founders who helped develop the company, Scott Booth. Scott was passionate about the business and always thinking about how we could provide products focused on enriching customers' everyday lives. The final product Scott booth led production on was our line of pet carriers designed with our partners at Kenneth Cole. In memory of Scott, our founder, we donate a portion of the profits from every pet carrier sold to PAWS Chicago, a no-kill animal shelter. Knowing that we're supporting a mission he was passionate about is our way of cherishing his memory and legacy of outstanding achievements in our industry.

In addition to raising funds, Heritage Travelware donated pet carriers. The team at PAWS Chicago is excited as they will be able to use the pet carriers for fundraising auctions, offering another opportunity to gain support for the day-to-day operations of the PAWS Chicago mission.

Paws Chicago is the largest no-kill animal shelter in the city of Chicago. The amazing team at PAWS is able to assist in finding homes for around 5,000 dogs and cats annually. In addition, it operates one of the largest high volume free and low-cost spay/neuter clinics in the country, performing thousands of spay/neuter surgeries for underserved communities. Recently PAWS has opened the nation's largest and most advanced medical hospital for homeless pets, which provides treatment for sick and injured dogs and cats in Chicagoland and from shelters in 12 states where pets are most at risk of euthanasia.

About Heritage Travelware

Heritage Travelware has been a manufacturer of fine travel goods, business bags, and cases for nearly 40 years. Founded in 1983 by brothers Scott and Brian Booth, Heritage works with renowned brands such as Kenneth Cole, Ben Sherman, and Office Depot. Building a customer-focused business with our partners and continuing to provide fashionable and classic design has been the core of Heritage Travelware's DNA.
